

Privacy Policy

Stomagienics, Inc. has created this privacy statement in order to demonstrate our firm commitment to privacy. The following discloses our information gathering and dissemination practices for this website.

Stomagienic, Inc. automatically tracks how the website content provided is used. This tracking allows us to gain a better understanding of potential areas for improvement so as to continually improve the relevance of and accessibility to, the content we provide. To this end, Stomagienics, Inc.. may at times deposit certain pieces of information called "cookies" on a visitor's computer. These "cookies" allow a more detailed level of tracking to fine tune our usage reports. However, should you have "cookies" disabled on your machine, then you continue to have exactly the same access to Stomagienics content as with 'cookies' enabled, it will only result in slightly less accurate usage figures for our own internal reports.

This usage information will only be used within Stomagienics, and our relevant partners, to increase the quality of content, service and support to our visitors. Some of this information may be made public from time to time, however it will only be in an aggregate, non-personally identifiable form, such as how many visitors have been to this website.

Personal Information

You may voluntarily share personal information on this website. In general, Stomagienics, Inc. will use such information only for internal purposes. We do not sell such information to external third parties, except in conjunction with a corporate sale, merger, dissolution, or acquisition. Personal information can be used to send you information about our company. In some places on this website, you can elect to receive information and products. In these instances, we may provide your personal information to vendors solely for the purpose of assisting you with ordering requested products. If we share personal information with third parties, we do not allow them to keep, disclose, or use this information with others except for the purpose of providing the services and products we ask them to provide. If this website contains link to other sites, Stomagienics, Inc. is not responsible for the privacy practices or the contents of such websites.

Public Forums

In some places on this website you will find forums, message boards, and/or news groups. Any information that is disclosed in these areas becomes public information, and you should exercise caution when deciding to disclose your personal information.

Security

This website has security measures in place to protect against the loss, misuse, and alteration of the information under our control.

Anonymous browsing on Stomagienics, Inc. websites

Stomagienics, Inc. does not gather any personal information or information related to any individual via cookies. The information collected is gathered using a cookie ID (a number of approx. 20 characters) plus a country ID. This means that Stomagienics will only be able to use statistical data that relates to groups of people but will in no way be able to identify any individual or information or site activity related to any individual.

Personal information is only gathered via forms on the site, in which the user actively enters information and sends this to Stomagienics. In this case, Stomagienics still respects and obeys the laws and regulations relating to gathering and storing personal information.

You can choose not to allow cookies (read more in the section "How to block and avoid cookies"). This way you remain completely anonymous to Stomagienics and the Google Analytics tool we use.

General definition of a cookie

A cookie, also known as an HTTP cookie, web cookie, or browser cookie, is used for an origin website to send information to a user's browser and for the browser to return the information to the origin site. The information can be used for authentication, identification of a user session, user's preferences, shopping cart contents, or anything else that can be accomplished through storing text data on the user's computer.

What is the gathered information used for?

The cookie-collected information is used for helping Stomagienics understand its visitors and how they engage with the website. All information is anonymous, but the cookie tracks trends like the click stream of users. The user-supplied information, which requires the user to actively sign up, is used for sending requested information like product information, financial information, and job information.

Advertising and targeting cookies

These cookies are used to deliver advertisements more relevant to you and your interests. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement and/or receive an email newsletter from Stomagienics, as well as help measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign. They are usually placed by advertising networks with the website operator's permission. They remember that you have visited a website and this information is shared with other organizations such as advertisers' email newsletter agencies. Quite often targeting or advertising cookies will be linked to site functionality provided by the other organization.

What information is gathered?

Stomagienics gathers two types of information from its webpages. The information gathered by cookies, and the information supplied by the users who fill out various forms for more information, sample orders, etc.

The information gathered by the cookie is defined by Google Analytics and is information such as:

- Time of current site visit.
- If and when the site was last visited by the user.
- From which site did the user come to the Stomagienics website (note that first party cookies do not share information across sites).
- IP address, which again is used to identify information like country, state, city (this is known as IP geo-location). The cookie does not collect information like name, email, or other address or billing information.
- Also, the Google Analytics Terms of Service clearly prohibits any Analytics customers from gathering information that associates personal information with Google Analytics information.
- The information the users supply varies from form to form depending on purpose. Be aware that these forms are created in accordance with global and local laws and regulations.

Protection of personal information

Stomagienics ensures that all user specific information is stored in accordance with local and international laws and regulations.

Cookie-gathered information is stored by Google. Read more about the Google Privacy Policy.

Information about cookies and other technology

When you visit our Website, we send one or more cookies – small text files containing a string of alphanumeric characters – to your device. We use both session cookies and persistent cookies. A session cookie disappears after you close your browser. A persistent cookie remains after you close your browser and may be used by your browser on subsequent visits of our website. Your web browser may provide you with some options regarding cookies. Please note that if you delete, or choose not to accept, cookies, you may not be able to utilize the features of the services provided via the Website to their fullest potential. We use third party cookies in connection with the services provided via the Website as well. For instance, we use Google Analytics to collect and process certain analytics data. We do not process or respond to web browsers’ “do not track” signals or other similar transmissions that indicate a request to disable online tracking of users who visit our Website or use the services provided via our Website.

We use cookies and automatically collected information to: (i) personalize our Website and the services provided via our Website, such as remembering your information so that you will not have to re-enter it during your use of, or the next time you use, our Website and the services provided via our Website; (ii) provide customized advertisements, content, and information on the basis of profiling; (iii) monitor and analyze the effectiveness of our Website and the services provided via our Website and third-party marketing activities on the basis of profiling; (iv) monitor aggregate site usage metrics such as total number of visitors and pages viewed; and (v) track your entries, submissions, and status in any promotions or other activities offered through our Website and the services provided via our Website (profiling). Tracking technology (profiling) also helps us manage and improve the usability of the Website, (i) detecting whether there has been any contact between your computer and us in the past and (ii) to identify the most popular sections of the Website.

Social Media Networks. Third parties, including Facebook, may use cookies, web beacons, and other storage technologies to collect or receive information from the Website and elsewhere on the internet and use that information to provide measurement services and target ads. Your interactions with these features are governed by the privacy policy of the organization providing it. For example, if you create or log into your account through a third party social networking site, we may have access to certain information from that site, such as your name, account information and friends, in accordance with the authorization procedures determined by such third-party social networking site. You may have a right to opt-out of the collection and use of information for ad targeting, and can exercise such choice at <http://www.youronlinechoices.eu/>.

Applicability and changes to this Privacy Notice

This policy applies only to our practices, procedures, and services. Our Website may include links to other websites and online services that are operated by other companies not under our control or direction. If you provide or submit personal information to those websites or online services, the privacy policies on those websites or online services apply to your personal information. We encourage you to carefully read the privacy policy of any website you visit.

We may revise this Privacy Notice at any time by modifying this page. You should check this policy from time to time to be informed of any changes, as they are binding on you. This policy was last updated in October 2018.

(e.g., e-mail, direct mail and/or phone) you wish to receive or stop receiving. This will ensure we identify you correctly in our systems and accurately process your request.

Stomagienics, Inc. will take appropriate steps to implement your request to opt-out of or opt-in to receiving marketing communications. Please note that due to production, mailing and system timelines, in order to remove you from our marketing lists, it may take up to 6 weeks to be completely removed.

Until that change takes effect, you may still receive marketing communications from us.

Also, please note that even though you may have opted out of receiving marketing communications, you may still receive business-related communications such as order confirmations, product recall information, loyalty program membership status or updates or other organization-related communications.

How Does Stomagienics, Inc. Secure My Personal Information?

We have security measures in place and take reasonable precautions to protect against the loss, misuse and unauthorized access of your personal information under our control. Stomagienics, Inc. cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to us by e-mail, and you do so at your own risk.

Does Stomagienics, Inc. Use Cookies, Other Technologies Or 3rd Parties To Collect Information?

Cookies and Clickstream Technology

A cookie is a small data file that a Web site or e-mail may send to your browser, which may then be stored on your hard drive. Our Website and e-mails use cookies to create a more personalized shopping experience for visitors to our site. Cookies simulate a continuous connection — they let us “remember” information about your preferences and session and allow you to move within areas of our Web sites without reintroducing yourself.

Stomagienics, Inc. may choose to use a third party to place cookies on your computer to collect non-personally identifiable information. Although our cookies may contain a unique user ID, they do not collect or store any of your personally identifiable information.

You may choose to set your Web browser to not accept cookies. If your cookies are disabled, you can still view our site, but you may not be able to create an account or make payments.

Our Web server automatically collects clickstream information such as the address (or URL) of the Web site that you came from before visiting our site, which pages you visit on our site, which browser you used to view our site, and any search terms you may have entered on our site, among other things.

Our Web site may also use other technologies to track which pages of our Web sites our visitors view. This anonymous clickstream data helps us understand how visitors use our Web site.

Third-Party Ad Providers

Our Web sites may use third-party service providers to serve ads on our behalf across the Internet and to analyze Web site traffic on our behalf. They may collect anonymous information about your visits to our Website, and your interaction with our ads. These companies may use technologies like those outlined above to measure the effectiveness of ads and e-mails. They may also use information about your visits to this and other Websites so that we can provide advertisements about goods and services.

No personally identifiable information is collected in this process. We may share anonymous information with this service provider in an aggregate form, for purposes of analysis and improvement of our site.

How Can I Update My Information?

Stomagienics, Inc. wants your information and marketing preferences to be accurate and complete. We provide several different methods for you to update your personal information. To update your information:

1) Send a request to info@stomagienics.com

2) Send a request to:

Stomagienics, Inc.
411 University Ridge, Suite 235
Greenville, SC 29601

If you send an e-mail or letter request, please be sure to indicate your current information and the requested changes you would like made.

Does Stomagienics, Inc. Collect Information From Children?

We will not knowingly or intentionally collect personal information online from children under the age of 16. We are committed to protecting the privacy of children.

Whom May I Contact If I Have Questions?

You may contact us in the following ways:

1) Send an email communication to info@stomagienics.com

2) Send a letter to:

Stomagienics, Inc.
411 University Ridge, Suite 235
Greenville, SC 29601

Will This Privacy Policy Change?

Because Stomagienics, Inc. will continue to implement new technologies and improve the services and features we provide, this policy is subject to change. If there are changes or additions to this Privacy Policy, we will post those changes here or in other formats for you to review. If we change our information practices or this Privacy Policy in such a way that your personal information may be used or shared in a different manner, we will give you the opportunity to opt-out of having your information used or shared in that new manner.
